Captain America and Iron Man illustration, circa late 1970s and early 1980s. Frank Robertson charted dueling campaigns to galvanize the nation behind opposing philosophies on the issue of Civil Rights, which boiled down to Civil Order, with Robertson at stalking big fish Hamilton and Underwood. Hamilton's assassination in 1969 and Underwood's military coup in 1974 could arguably even not be opposed.

Civil Rights: Pro & Cons
Volume One, Issue.

Illustrated and inked, Steve Rude, Inker, Al Gromer

Inks by Steve Rude, Gromer
Legend Rick Oddoro
Gerard Alstee flame and Cover.

Quence Attean
Shown left, inked by
Andrew, Aspato, Gene