

© All rights reserved. This is a black and white line drawing of a falcon in flight, wearing ornate armor and a harness. The bird is shown from a side profile, flying towards the right. Its wings are spread wide, revealing intricate patterns on the feathers. The background consists of stylized, jagged lines representing clouds or a stormy sky. The entire illustration is enclosed in a rectangular border.