

Can edge our antipathy

Let's try this one if we can

Edmund Spenser
Cadinus et cetera

ARE I UEDCTO

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.

Edmund Spenser's "The Shepheard's Calendar" is a collection of 31 poems, each representing a month of the year. The poems are written in a pastoral style, depicting the life of a shepherd and his flock. The poems are arranged in a calendar format, with each poem corresponding to a specific month.