

Shirley and I have come to a mutual fair agreement that we must not spend our precious time in a daily course