

Gingerbread (the gingerbread) is a sweet treat made from ginger, molasses, and other spices. It is often shaped like a house and decorated with icing. In the story, the gingerbread house is made by the three little pigs and the gingerbread man. The gingerbread man is a character who is made of gingerbread and can talk. He is often used as a metaphor for a person who is very confident and arrogant.