

Wun Flyin Firlys

A black and white line drawing of a young girl pilot. She is wearing a flight helmet with goggles resting on her forehead. She has a cheerful expression, smiling. She is seated in the cockpit of a single-engine propeller airplane, with her hands on the control yoke. The airplane is shown from a side-on perspective, flying towards the right. The background consists of two simple, fluffy clouds. The entire illustration is framed by a thin orange border.
